BED TIME STORIES BY THAT FAMOUS GREEK AUTHOR "ANANYMOUS" (CONTINUED)

As I said the clock had struck three and everyone knows that when you get three strikes you are out so the Giants took their place in the field and the Cubs came to bat. About this time there was a commotion heard at the front door of the castle and in walked Little Red Riding Hood's brother Robin, with a singer (Torch) in each hand. Robin Hood said, "Villian you can't touch a hair of that little Lady's head in this state without a barber's license and besides it is now thirty minutes past eleven o'clock and if my sister is not home by midnight we will have to cut off her toes so that she can get her foot into a glass slipper that she has to wear to go to a wedding of Prince E-Pality and that famous army Countess Off."

The giant said, "Who am I to stop a wedding of royalty but come back some time and I will open a keg of railroads spikes that I have had hidden all during Prohibition". And then Little Red Riding Hood and her brother Robin Hood jumped on their skis and was a wenting.

SOME OF THAT GOOD NEWS THAT WE WANTED BAD WAS GOOD. KEEP IT UP
