By way of dedicating Vol.1, No.8, March 5, 1936:
NUTS TO LT.SMITH FOR INVESTIGATING IN THE SMALL HOURS OF THE NIGHT

CAMP EDUCATION

Educational progress in D4 has been rapid during the past six months. After the early construction period was over Guy G. Germano was assigned as educational Adviser. Unfortunately he was transferred before he had time to build up an recreational and educational program of suitable extent. After a short time of transition and of trial, Mr. Jessup was assigned to full time duties with the company, starting with the 1st of November. A great many experiments have been tried and many efforts at getting more interest in classes have failed. However the needs and desires of the boys are now pretty well known and a comprehensive program is set up. There are now thirty regular classes and several informal activities. Movies of both educational and entertainment nature are shown weekly. Much of the success of our educational work is due to two fine assistants: Hafstrom, through November and Michal in the months of December, January, and February. It is the wish of the Adviser that each man in camp find something to attract his interest in the program. All suggestions are welcome and the Adviser wants each man to have a part in the educational plan. LETS ALL DO OUR PART FELLOWS.

"YAWSUH"

There will be a dance Sat.Night Medley gets two letters a day. Father John graded the roads. We'll be glad when it's spring. Porch brought the next one in.

MICHAL INTERVIEWS EM

The first enrollee to be interviewed was a lad from Ky. This lad had never attended a class in his life and when the AEA ask him what studies he was interested in he replied. "Well suh ah was'nt fixin to think of any jest now". "All right then take the two things that you like about school", replied our AEA. "Fine, ah reckon ah will shore nuff take noon and recess then". Said the Ky. So Michael patiently explained that he had to take some study, and ask him what he could do. "I can draw a right smart lot", said the Ky. boy "And what can you draw my boy", ask brother Michal. "Flies, said the Enrollee, they draw around me wherever I go! (Slow music).

AND THEN

There is the Astronomer, from South Americh, who swears (How very droll) that while he was down there he saw a lot of mosquitoes so large and vicious that they would light on the limbs of the trees, and bark. What time was that and will you please make ours sarsaparilla?
